THE GOOD-FOR-NOTHING.

Nan, Andy J-hns-n. Tom Dibbles, James G-rd-n B-nn-tt. Tom Dibbles.—"Come here! It's high time there should be something settled with YOU; there must be an end to all this—and, though I mean only to talk like a father 10 you, you mustn't thin I'm not angry, because I am, in the future, it's fit you should know, the more gently I speak the more I mean what I say. So now I ask you calmly, WHAT THE DEVIL HAVE YOU BEEN DOING!"

THE LIFE AND ADVENTURES

MONSIEUR J. M. SCOVEL, OF CAMDEN, N. J.

Illustrated and Ventilated with Cuts. EXTRACTED FROM HIS SPEECHES IN LESS THAN FIVE MINUTES, WITHOUT PAIN.

A very large assemblage of the citizens of Camden met Mons, Scovel at the Depot on last Wednesday evening and escorted him to his home on Plum street. 570

STREET, TAKEN FROM A STEREOTYPE PICTURE IN POSSESSION OF THE WRITER,

VIEW OF MONS. SCOVEL'S RESIDENCE ON PLUM

VIEW OF THE TRAIN THAT BROUGHT MONS SCOVEL HOME.

And about 9 o'clock a Brass Band proceeded to the residence of the Senator, and after a discourse of sweet sounds from the band, foud calls were made for some sweet sounds from Mons, Scovel. He coming out on the piazza, discoursed as follows:-

My Constituents and Friends:-I am grateful for your presence here to-night. "Tis years since last we met," about four I think, to tell me I was the choice of the Republican party in the city of Camden, "of which I am the chief among ten thousand, and the one altogether lovely.' (Applause.)

That you believed in me then I may presume else you would not have returned me to the Senate in 1864. That you believe in me now I have no doubt. "Believe me it all those endearing young charms," "Which sages have seen in thy face," has no charm for me, for which I blame nobody but myself, and causes tears to "spring to the eyes, which gather in the heart." (Applause.)

Music-"I would not die in Spring time." An auditor here proposed "Three Cheers," when a gentleman of African descent, standing In the doorway, immediately brought them out.

A VIEW OF THE "THREE CHEERS" TAKEN FROM THE

That I may have thought last winter, that I was "wiser than seven men who could render a reason" in the Republican Party I do not deny; but "hope springs eternal in the human heart," and a sense of duty which springs from reflec tion has caused me to bend to the majority; and with becoming modesty, I cease to interpose my judgment or my vote between the will of the people, for "where there's a will there's a way," and the election of A. G. Cattell a United States Senator from New Jersey. (Applause,)

Music-"There's nae luck about the House," My relations with this gentleman are not even friendly (a voice-"Never mind your relations, ge on with the speech"); but he was the choice of the party which sent me to the Legislature. whose servant I then was and yet am.

PORTRAITS OF MONS. SCOVEL'S UNPRIENDLY RE-LATIONS. And to you who are my friends, to you who have borne, generally with patience ("which is a virtue"), my infirmities of judgment (if such they may be called), I now solemnly say that my course at this extra session and in April last was not influenced by "fear, favor, or affection," or by gain or the hope thereof. (Applause.)

My father was a son of Massachusetts, that 'land of the free and home of the brave" where "the breaking waves dashed high," and my mother was a New Jersey woman, over whose "blood-stained plains" our Revolutionary fathers "marked their track is blood," and where to this day the Camden and Amboy Raliroad Company run their double track. I tell you you cannot make traitors out of that stock. (Great applause.)

VIEW OF THE PRIS OF MONS, SCOVEL'S YOUTH, ON

HIS FATRUR'S ESTATE. When I thought in 1861 that the party to which I had been long attached ceased to be patriotic, I went with men who believed treason was a crime, and that traitors should go to 'that bourne from which no traveller returns." (Applause.) There I stood for six years; there I stand to-night, "with my martial cloak abroad me," and there I will stand till this "mortal shall put in immoratality." (Applause.)

Music-" Whene'er I take my walks abroad," In silence and at night "ere slumber's chains have bound me," when conscience feels that life should soar to nobler ends than power, I made my decision to stand by the amendment to the Constitution, which I clearly saw was the only great and humane measure which could give peace and permanence to a distracted land. and present a spectacle to the world worthy of all admiration. (Applause.)

000 THE SPECTACLE THAT MONS, SCOVEL PRESENTED TO THE WORLD.

And when any of your friends in the North Ward of Camden tell you that they doubt Scovel's Republicanism, tell that man that the Senator from Camden-

Firstly, Never had an office that paid him anything.

Secondly. Never asked for a dead-head ticket on any railroad or steamboat.

Thirdly. Never had the measles or croup. Fourthly. Never sent a communication to a newspaper that he did not pay for it himself, Fifthly. Never failed to do his whole duty, in spite of Andrew Johnson, and Collectorships, and Consulates to Liverpool.

The state of

ONE OF THE COLLECTOR SHIPS THAT WAS TO TAKE MONS, SCOVEL TO LIVERPOOL, IF HE HAD DONE DIFFERENTLY.

But, my neighbors and friends, a man cannot talk long of himself without vanity. (Immense cheering.) You have killed the fatted calf to night, and there is more joy over one sinner that repenteth than over ninety-and-nine just persons that need no repentance; for what woman losing a greenback does light a candle and put it under a bushel, that it may give light unto all that are in the house that was built upon a rock, and the floods came and beat upon the house, and "what a fall was there, my countrymen!" (Loud cheers.

Have it your own way; but my way to explain it would be by suggesting that in animal history some animals go just the contrary way from which you want them to go. I am like that animal. (Cheers.)

CORRECT VIEW OF THE ANIMAL THAT GOES THE CONTRARY WAY.

"Muzzle not the ox that treadeth out the corn." Remember that a public servant's course may sometimes be like the stars, "regular most when most irregular they seem." (Applause.) Music,-"We'll all drink stone blind."

My friends, I have much more to say of the same sort, but I cannot keep you longer. The time is growing late. (Here the Senator pulled out his gold hunting case.)

VIEW OF MONS. SCOVEL'S "DETACHED LEVER," FOURTEEN JEWELS. I went to the Legislature in 1863, bent on op posing the spirit of Rebellion and the Camden and Amboy Railroad. Faithfully, I think, I have discharged both of these trusts.

MONS. SCOVEL AS HE APPEARED RUNNING FOR THE

LEGISLATURE. There are many in my county who desire my place in the Senate; many, I know, whose judgment may be sounder, but not one who wil have a sincerer or more fervent desire to be true to the great principles of human rights, and none who will strive harder to prevent a rupture in the great Republican party. (Cheers.)

VIEW OF MONS, SCOVEL'S CURE FOR A RUP TRE IN

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY. If, my constituents, the musket with which for four years, you have been wont to make war on the Copperheads, having missed fire once, is to be laid aside, I will gracefully submit. Or, if you choose to "pick the flint and try it again." the decision is yours, not mine. The empire of liberty moves forward. "Westward the star of empire takes its way." Again, from the bottom of my heart, I thank you, and bld you a kind good-night. One word moree. There will be issued, in a few days, a new "Dictionary of Familiar Quotations," edited by James M.

Scovel, of Plum street, Camden. Music-"Everything is lovely and, the Goose hangs high."

ALL THAT WAS LEFT OF MONS, SCOVEL APPRE BIS GREAT PETE,

Dr. VON MOSCHZISKER asserts with the utmost confidence that his sys em or treating LUNG. THROAT, CHEST Diseases, CATARRI, ASTHMA, and all maladies of the digestive organs, by the use of the ATOMIZER, is the only reliable one. Since the introduction or this system cases have been brought to his office, No 1631 WALNUT Street in which every other possible means have been ruitlessly employed, but readly yielded to his treatment.

The ATOMIZER is an AIPARATUS constructed on Scientific principles, which, by a mechanical atrangement, either by atmospheric pressure or steam, converts any medic ne into a fine cPRAY, and readily conveys it has the BENCHIAL TUBES or LUNGS, with the RESPIRATORY CUBRENT. The medicine submitted to the action of this APPARATUS los nothing of their CHENICAL VALUE, as in othe preparations, but are received into the RESPIRATORY ORGANS in their full MEDICINAL STRENGTH.
